Summary: a poem dedicated to our three favorite mermaids. its not great, but i was bored.

Mermaids' Secret

It would seem impossible to behold

But for us, it's so much more than a dream.

Our fanciful "tales" never get old-

We're human, but much more, it seems.

On a full moon's night,

Don't get too close,

We could give you a fright,

In the waters of the Gold Coast

We don't mean to scare you,

We don't want to harm.

We come straight out of the blue,

And to some it gives alarm.

But through all our trials,

Through thick and through thin-

Our bond is not mild,

This can be our secret- three fins.
